

Youth Advisory Board

Are you passionate about making the internet a better place?
Do you want to speak out about online issues affecting young people?

Who are we?

A charity working to make the internet a great and safe place for children and young people.

We work with young people, their families, technology companies, the government and more to promote the positives, whilst responding to the negatives of life online.

We put the needs, wants and experiences of young people at the heart of everything we do.

What's the role?

Join our Youth Advisory Board to collaborate with young people from across the UK making a difference in how online safety is talked about and taught at all levels. We'll chat regularly as a group about online safety issues affecting young people.

You'll also get to travel to London for a 3-day residential and have the opportunity to learn new skills from our team of experts. There may even be the opportunity to represent Childnet at national and international events, leading the way in speaking out about important online issues.

About you...

Aged 13-16 years old at the time of application, you are active online and passionate about making the internet a safer and more positive environment for everyone. You're confident sharing your opinion, but respectful and open to other perspectives.

You want to celebrate the opportunities being online has to offer, whilst championing change that can make a real difference to young people's online experiences.
